★ PROFILE

In 2014 Leon Shaw, owner of Double S Transport (a FedEx Ground contractor) and Full Tilt Transport (a tanker transport company), saw the need to "Grow his own" driving force.

Thus, the birth of Truck Dynasty Driving Academy, L.L.C. By opening his own school, Leon was able to fill his trucks with highly skilled, safety orientated and fuel efficient drivers.

Other contractors recognized his accomplishments and requested he train drivers for them. Through deliberate planning and skilled staffing, Leon has moved to the next level within the training.

By addressing the needs of the transportation industry, Mr. Shaw has established a state of the art training facility specifically designed to address the driver shortage of the entire industry.

Whatever your goals for entering the transportation industry may be, we have several options available to ensure your success.

★ PLACEMENT ASSISTANCE

Truck Dynasty Driving Academy, L.L.C., offers lifetime employment placement assistance and has a very prestigious list of carriers to choose from: FedEx Ground, Double S Transport, Full Tilt Transport and XPO Logistics.

★ PROGRAM FACTS

Depending on the program you choose, the length of training will range from 120 to 160 clock hours under professional instruction.

Each portion of the program is broken down into 40 hours each which will include classroom training, actual behind-the-wheel backing training, and behind-the-wheel city and highway driving training. We keep your class sizes small to ensure sufficient, as well as, quality drive time.

Instructors employed by Truck Dynasty Driving Academy L.L.C., are required to have at least 7 years of verifiable OTR experience. Currently, all instructional staff has in excess of 13 years each!

★ QUALIFICATION EASE

What other industry can you attend 3 to 4 weeks of training and be qualified to make $60,000 to $80,000 your first year? Once you become a qualified driver you never have to worry about being unemployed again.

There is always going to be a demand for quality drivers and the range of employment opportunities range from OTR, LTL, Local, Regional, Dedicated and more.

You can literally pick what type of freight you prefer to haul. Truck Dynasty Driving Academy, L.L.C., has positioned itself to train you in all these areas of transportation.

★ CAREER POTENTIAL

According to the American Trucking Association (ATA), there is currently an estimated shortage of 120,000 qualified truck drivers now and studies indicate that due to the "Baby Boomers" retiring, and the new "Compliance Safety Accountability" (CSA) Program, that was implemented in 2010, the demand for new Truck Drivers will continue to increase.

Currently from coast to coast there are literally thousands of tractors sitting idle in company yards because there are not enough qualified drivers.

This shortage of qualified drivers has created such a demand that many companies are willing to pay your tuition or offer tuition reimbursement if you pay for your training up front.

In addition to these two options, many individuals qualify for some type of Government funding.

To find out if you qualify for any of these funding programs contact one of our recruiters immediately!

Many other carriers are beginning to jump on the TDDA band wagon in sending students for training primarily due to the reputation Truck Dynasty Driving Academy, L.L.C., has developed in turning out qualified student drivers.
